

Write a poem, song, rap, or cheer about Mexican wolves and win a free admission ticket to the Wild & Scenic Film Festival on Friday, March 8, 2013 at the Orpheum Theater

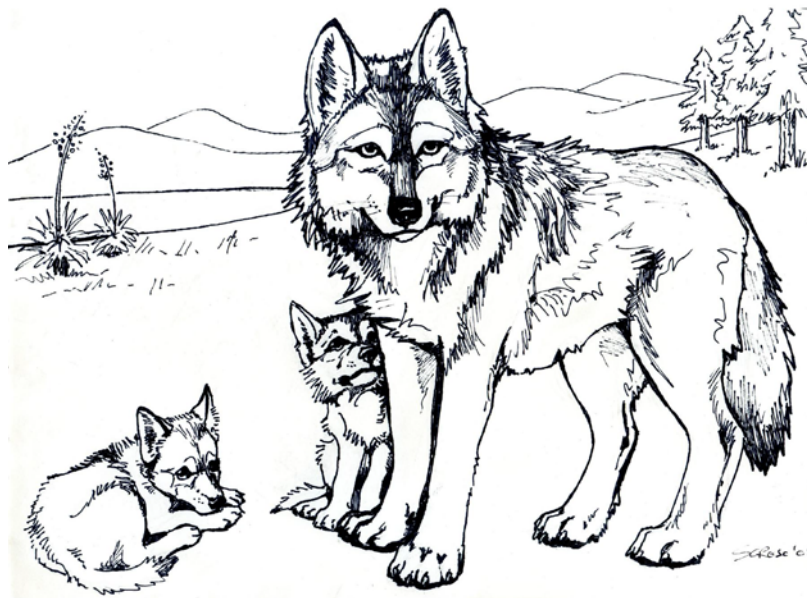

Mexican gray wolves are the most endangered mammal in North America. They are a unique species native to the Southwest United States and Mexico. There are currently only 75 Mexican wolves in the wild in east central Arizona and west central New Mexico. The Grand Canyon Wolf Recovery Project is working to help educate the public about the importance of wolves and restore them to the forests of northern Arizona. You can help by writing a poem, song, rap, or cheer that positively portrays Mexican wolves, why they are important, and why we should care about wolves!

For more information about Mexican wolves, please visit:

www.gewolfrecovery.org

www.mexicanwolves.org

http://www.azgfd.gov/w_c/es/wolf_reintroduction.shtml

Submission Details:

- Open to all school age children (K-12 grade) in the Flagstaff area and surrounding communities.
- Please submit poems or lyrics to info@gewolfrecovery.org and include the student's name, grade, school, and contact information (email and/or phone number) by Friday, March 1, 2013.
- One free admission ticket to the Wild & Scenic Film Festival will be left in the student's name at will call at the Orpheum Theater on Friday, March 8th, 2013. Doors open at 6:15 pm and the show starts at 7:00 pm.
- Select poems, songs, cheers, and raps will be invited to be read or performed aloud by the student at the Wild & Scenic Film Festival, so please make sure to include contact information so we can get in touch with you! Invited poets will be contacted on Tuesday, March 5, 2013.
- For more information, please contact Emily at (928) 202-1325 or info@gewolfrecovery.org